FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Is the FAU CNA course board certified?

The FAU CNA course is a test preparation course intended for students to “challenge” the CNA exam. The exam preparation course is not affiliated with any certifying boards. The instructors are Nurses and are approved through the Florida Board of Nursing to teach a variety of certification courses.

Does the tuition include the cost of the state license exam?

No. Students must sign up through Prometric Testing Centers and pay them directly before, during or after the prep course. Prometric Centers are located nearby and you will go to their facility to test.

Background check: is that something I have to pay before I take course or is it needed prior to taking State exam?

The background check will have to be done prior to signing up for prometric exam.
How do I sign up for the course?

You can sign up and pay for the course on the College of Science Continuing Education website: http://science.fau.edu/student_services/continuingeducation.php

Will there be any requirements for outside work out-side the classroom?

No. All lecture and skills will be performed during the particular session days/times.

Where is the course located?

The prep course is located on the Boca Raton Campus of Florida Atlantic University. The main classroom is in the Science Building (SE) Room 319B.

How much does the course cost & does that include book fees?

The prep course is offered at a very reasonable price. FAU students pay $275.00 and non-FAU students pay $325.00. The fee includes the book and parking (if necessary).
